

I think that the lesson with native speaker was really interesting . Sometimes i have problem with understanding everything lot of things i didnt understand . I am not usually interested in čára but this was fun and interesting . I would really like to know more things from specialist .

Hello, I think it was really interesting and I think this is something we'll use in the future. Driveless vehicles are the future, 'cause it seems like it works and it's important to learn about the technology. The technology is moving forward and if everything goes well, we may be "driving" these cars everyday to school or work in few years. Thank you for this lesson, even tho I didn't have any questions, i am really interested in your work. Thank you again and have a nice day.

I think that it was really interesting. And good for us to speak or listen to someone from real life. I didnt understand him sometimes because of the technology but thats okay. Me personally, i like listening to people with different accents. I think we should have more lessons about meeting poeple in real life.

For me as for someone who isn't very interested in cars - it was really informatng and interesting. I liked it.

The presentation was very informative and it was good to hear another person speak english.I'll find it very enjoyable if there were more lectures like this.

I think it was interesting. But it was short and I couldn't hear sometimes. It was good to learn english in new form. I would like to have more hours like this.

Personaly, it was very useful and interesting i am very grateful for the presentation i feel like this could help the world a lot with the polution problems. I wouldn't mind having more lesons like this one for it was useful interesting and it helped me with my english.
